University of Hertfordshire UH

Principles for Inclusive Practice: EAL Learners

Have high expectations for all students

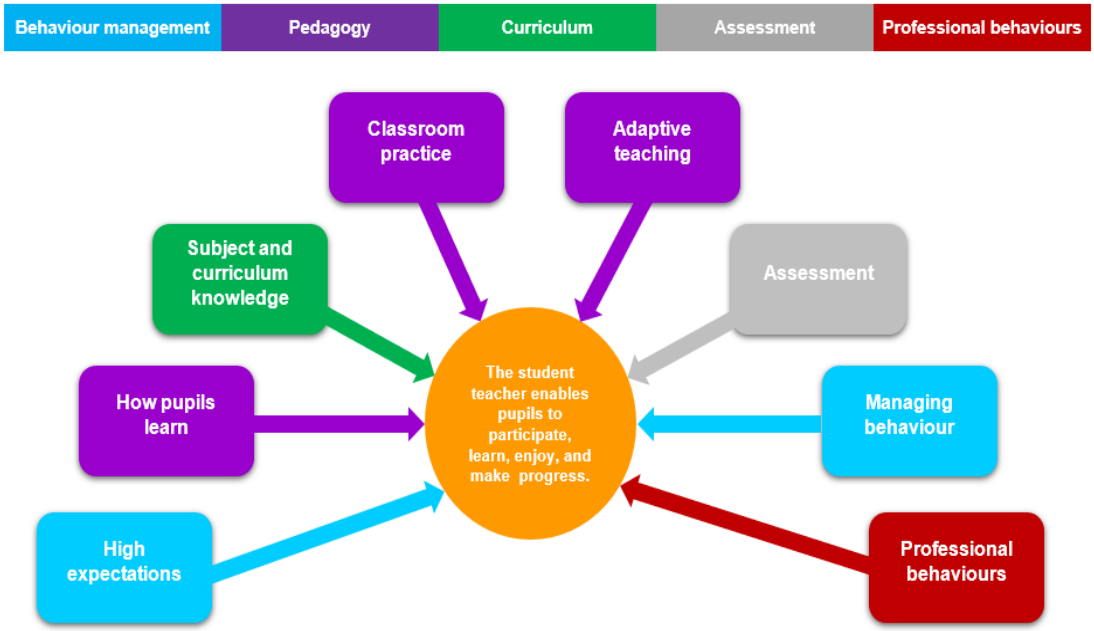

Anticipate possible barriers to learning and make adaptations to practice

Notice and know the needs of the child you teach
Specific needs
Inclusion register
Past reports
Talk to other professionals
Involve pupils in their learning
Involve parents

Equality Act 2010 - SEND Code of Practice - Keeping children safe in education – National Curriculum

University of Hertfordshire UH

Focused Observation of Practice (FOP): Pedagogy (EAL)

Comments: these can be things that you notice and questions you would like to ask to find out more

Reflections: If you can, please discus your questions and comments with the teacher that you have observed

University of Hertfordshire UH

N.B. If being used by a student teacher to observe a lesson, we suggest you focus on only 1-2 of the areas listed below.

Teacher's Name/Subject..... Class/Set..... Date/Time.....

	COMMENTS/QUESTIONS
Drawing on Prior Knowledge & L1 • How are L1 languages promoted as a support for learning? e.g. access to bilingual dictionaries, texts, internet, bilingual audio; use of L1 (orally/through reading/in writing) to understand concepts and formulate ideas • Are there opportunities for the EAL learner to use their first language skills academically? e.g. by encouraging the use of first language websites for research; completing bilingual vocabulary table tasks; completing homework assignments in L1 • How does the teacher acknowledge and promote L1 output? e.g. rewarding verbal contributions; acknowledging L1 written work; supporting translation of written work; • How does the teacher plan for and teach in a way that draws on EAL pupils' specific cultural and linguistic knowledge and experiences? Subject-Specific Academic Language • Has the teacher identified in advance the academic language that needs to be defined, signposted and/or contextualised? • What type of academic language are pupils being exposed to in this lesson that is noticeably different from spontaneous conversational language? (Consider this at word level, sentence level and whole text level.) • Is academic language being introduced verbally, through reading tasks or expected from written responses? • What language-focused activities has the teacher included in the lesson? Are these activities focusing on developing language at vocabulary level, sentence level or whole text level? Collaborative Language Opportunities: Oracy • When does the teacher use collaborative learning (pair/group work) to support EAL pupils? What do you think is the purpose of the collaborative activity? What does the teacher want the EAL pupil(s) to know, learn and/or do? • How is the seating plan used to ensure collaborative learning is effective for the EAL pupil? e.g. Positive language role model; near another EAL learner with the same L1; near to teacher/TA access; at front of classroom • How is the activity scaffolded to ensure EAL pupils are able to contribute? e.g. can they draw from/use their L1; are visuals used to support understanding; are they given speaking prompts?) • How does the activity impact the EAL learner's academic and dispositional progress? How does the teacher support and monitor the EAL pupil(s) contributions and progress? Scaffolded Language Opportunities: Reading & Writing

University of Hertfordshire UH

• How does the teacher draw on EAL pupils' prior knowledge and L1 to contextualise new reading material? e.g. visual prompts, bilingual resources, etc. • How did the teacher clarify EAL pupils' understanding of words/phrases/sections? • Were there opportunities for EAL pupils to formulate their ideas and responses in their L1 before writing in English? • Was modelling/scaffolding used to develop confident writing at word/sentence/text level? • Were collaborative writing opportunities offered before setting independent writing tasks? • Was modelling/scaffolding used to develop confident writing at word-/sentence-/text-level?

REFLECTIONS AND NEXT STEPS

What was successful about how EAL pedagogical approaches were used within the lesson and why?

-
-

How will you use this observation to help you with your planning and teaching?

-
-